SECRETARY OF STATE KNOCKS BLAINE RULE

Says He Deformed Income Tax Law and Failed as Progressive Executive

SEEKS GOVERNOR'S JOB

Wants Non-partisan, Non-political Investigation of Taxation Problem

Milwaukee—Advocating non-partisan, non-political investigation of the tax situation in Wisconsin, Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman Thursday attacked the policies of Governor John J. Blaine, in an address before the Builders' monthly luncheon at the Milwaukee Athletic club.

"The people demanded that our income tax law be reformed, he has deformed it," the secretary of state declared.

"I have always been a progressive but I confess that if he is a progressive I am something else," Zimmerman's open declaration in opposition to the governor comes at a time when attention is being given at Madison to politics. It is generally agreed in the state capital that Governor Blaine will be a candidate for United States senator in the next election. Mr. Zimmerman is contemplating seeking the gubernatorial office in succession to Governor Blaine, it was learned from an authoritative source close to the secretary of state.

If Mr. Zimmerman becomes a candidate for governor, this person asserted, he will run an "anti-Blaine Republican."

PEOPLE SATISFIED

"Our income tax law was advocated by Governor La Follette and Governor Davidson; it was formulated and enacted under the direction of Governor McGovern and it was retained without modification by Governor Phillips," Mr. Zimmerman told the builders. Under these circumstances it is not possible to say that, in a broad way, it meets with the approval of the people.

"All agree that it is not perfect, and that it should be revised to meet the changed economic conditions, but, gentlemen, it is too big and important a subject to be made a political football and buffeted back and forth to enable a designing politician to steal a political goal."

"Our tax laws should be revised after an investigation has been made by a non-partisan, non-political commission composed of representatives of all the important economic groups—manufacturers, farmers, laborers and artisans, Republicans, Democrats and Socialists."

MUST COMPROMISE

"The final proposal by such a commission will be fairly equitable. It will not be entirely satisfactory to all, and perhaps not to any of the economic groups, but every just law is a compromise, and no just law can be enacted without compromise."

"We must not confuse the principles of government which characterized the administration of the four governors I named with the political gyrations and contortions of the present executive. I have always been a progressive, but I confess that if he is a progressive I am something else. The people demanded that our income tax law be reformed, he has deformed it. Not a single piece of progressive or constructive legislation has been enacted during the last three sessions of our legislature. Neither has anything been accomplished by way of reconstruction. The evils and inequalities that existed when he was first elected are still with us, and he has added others."

GNAWING DISEASE

"Our industries must not be taxed so as to make it difficult for them to compete readily with similar industries in other states."

"His administration has acted like a mauler diseased gnawing at the vitals of our economic and social life. It has led to a great deal of unjust and unequal for criticism of our state. This is a serious mistake. It ought to be possible to cure the disease without killing the patient. Surely, it cannot be necessary to crucify the state of Wisconsin in order to prevent the reelection of a political pretentor."

Copenhagen, Denmark—Two notorious criminals are being held on a charge of attempting the assassination of Mr. Kohlsatz, with an offer to kill Premier Stauning, minister of public welfare. Both men and other public men and set fire to the government buildings.

The arrests were made when the soviet envoy informed the Danish authorities of the alleged offer.

ONE NEGRO KILLED, EIGHT WHITES HURT IN OIL FIELD TUFF

Eldorado, Ark. — One negro was killed and eight white men were wounded, two seriously, in a fight between white and negro oil field workers near here Wednesday night after a demand had been made that the negro employees be discharged.

The shooting is said to have started after about 200 white men demanded that the foreman in charge of a camp in which a group of negro men were quartered discharge the negroes.

After the foreman had told the white men that negroes would be sent away from the camp Thursday a shot is said to have been fired from ambush into the group. The negroes about 80 in number fled the scene after the white men opened fire on them and took refuge in a woods.

TROTZKY LEAVES 4 MONTHS EXILE

Former Red Army Leader Slated for Post as Commissariat of Foreign Trade

Moscow.—Leon Trotsky, deposed soviet war minister returned to Moscow Thursday morning from Sukhum, Trans-Caucasia, after four months' isolation, ready to accept any position the government may offer him.

The former Red army leader, granted absolute freedom from his political heresy on his promise to observe all the rules of strict bolshevism, probably will be offered the commissariat of foreign trade, vacated by Leonid Krassin's appointment as ambassador to France.

This post, Trotsky's friends hope, will help restore him to some degree of power by leading to a more responsible place in the cabinet.

There was no crowd to welcome the former minister of war and nothing in the nature of an official reception. This apparent indifference is believed to reflect the attitude of the general public toward Trotsky. The people seem to care little about the future of the once powerful political figure.

REDS DECLARE ELECTION OF HINDENBURG INVALID

Berlin — Official protest has been entered by the Socialists against the validity of the election of Field Marshal von Hindenburg as president of Germany. The Socialists charge many irregularities and demand that the election be declared void.

This action, however, does not seem to worry the Nationalists, who say it will be difficult to prove that the circumstances were such to effect the result of the vote in which von Hindenburg received a plurality of 902,911.

LUSITANIA WAS SUNK TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

New York—Memorial services in town hall Thursday afternoon mark the tenth anniversary of the sinking of the Lusitania with the loss of 1,198 lives, including 124 Americans. Clergymen of all faiths, naval officers and civilians and relatives or friends of some of the victims, were on the program.

The idea of many churches as distinct and separate entities was as foreign to the New Testament Christianity as many Christians, he said. "The church was the body of Christ. It was that divine organism against which the gates of hell should not prevail. "If we are to understand the relation between the Church and the Kingdom of God, we must go back to the inadequate notions which now prevail and lift the church above the low values which have become attached to it. We must see the church as the body of Christ, the divine organism for establishing the Kingdom of God in the world."

The advancement of Bishop Ivin has been marked and rapid. Entering the ministry in 1909, he rose to be dean of the Nashville Theological seminary in 12 years and was elected bishop coadjutor of the diocese of Milwaukee just 15 years after being ordained a priest of the church.

Dean Ivin was born at South Bend, Ind., Oct. 6, 1884, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thomas Ivin.

Milwaukee—Denominationalism has no place in the church of Christ, asserted the Rt. Rev. G. P. Anderson, Episcopal bishop of Chicago, speaking here at ceremonies for the consecration of the Very Rev. IS RELEASED ON HER WORD PENDING BAIL

Husband and Wife Converse and Urge Each Other to Trust in God's Help

By Associated Press

Chicago — Mrs. Julie Shepherd, named as an accessory of her husband, William D. Shepherd, in the alleged slaying of their ward, William Nelson McClintock, orphan millionaire was at liberty Thursday on her own recognizance after surrendering Wednesday night.

Her release pending grand jury action on $5,000 bonds was promised for Friday morning by Judge Jacob Hopkins before whom she appeared. Until then he stayed certain of the coroner's inquest from which she fled Tuesday night after the coroner's jury had recommended that she be held as an accessory in the death of Young McClintock last fall and of his mother 16 years ago.

No opposition to her release on her word or bond was raised by Robert E. Crowe, a states attorney, who strenuously resisted efforts to release Shepherd, now in jail pending trial May 18.

"There is no evidence that I have as state's attorney that can cause me to oppose bail in this case," the prosecutor said.

For the first time since his arrest several weeks ago Shepherd was taken from his cell to converse with his wife after arrangements for her release had been made. They talked for 15 minutes, urging each other to remain firm and trust in divine aid. Mrs. Shepherd, described as a "Lady Macbeth" by Judge Harry Olson, who instigated the investigation of the deaths, sobbed as she left. She termed the jury action and that of Judge Olson "persecution."

Green Bay — C. E. Baker, of the state board of health, arrived here Thursday to investigate the waters of the Fox river, the polluted condition of which is reported to have caused the death of game fish beyond a precedent scale.

According to Ira G. Smith, game warden, who recently returned from a trip up the river, both its banks between Kaukauna and Green Bay are strewn with thousands of dead fish. Mr. Smith said, "In traversing the river from Neenah to Green Bay, and found no dead fish until I reached Kaukauna but from that point north to Green Bay there were thousands of them lining the banks."

THOUSANDS STARE AS FLEET LEAVES HARBOR

Honolulu—Thousands of persons crowded on the slopes of the Punchbowl and around the top of extinct volcanic craters at dawn Thursday to view the assembled United States fleet as it moved out of the harbor in an impressive naval parade departing on maneuvers which will continue until May 22.

The ships were in inspiring formation. The maneuvers started Thursday morning will bring the ships to Lahaina, which will be reached on Saturday, after minor sham battles at sea.

EAGLES CONFER DEGREE ON 111 AT INITIATION

Rooney Says Eagles Are Credited With Originating Mothers' Day

A class of 111 members was initiated into the Appleton order of the Eagles and Order of Eagles here Wednesday night with an elaborate program of speeches, music and entertainment. The Mothers' day class consisted of 144 members, but 35 did not appear for initiation. Fred Meyer, president of the Appleton order, presided at the initiation, assisted by the local officials.

Attorney F. J. Rooney, a principal speaker of the evening said the Eagles are credited with originating Mothers' day. The subject of his talk was "What the Fraternal Order of Eagles has done for Mothers." The American War Mothers have credited the Eagles with originating this custom. Mr. Rooney said, and stated that the order is doing all in its power to help mothers care for their children.

Other speakers were Judge Fred V. Heinemann, Theodore Berg and Fred Bachman, all of whom spoke of the principles and benefits of the order. Mr. Berg urged new clubrooms for the growing organization, and said that with the full cooperation of all members it would be possible to start work on the new rooms early next year.

The newly organized drum and bugle corps appeared in public for the first time, assisting the officers in opening ceremonies. The Wettstein orchestra, composed of Hubert Wettstein and his sons Roman and Claude, played a number of old time melodies, including "The Old Oaken Bucket," "Childhood Memories," and "When You and I Were Young, Maggie."

Nelson J. Gallipeau kept the audience in an uproar with a number of comic tales and several Irish stories.

Britain Compiles Picture Gallery Of Its Notables

Women, Even Prominent Ones, Object to Having Pictures on Public Display

By Associated Press
London—The National Portrait gallery is compiling photographs of distinguished men and women in all fields of British life. Already 2,000 of the great and near-great have posed for this national collection, which is to go into the gallery archives.

Very few of the faces in the collection are feminine. This is not entirely due to the fact that women of prominence outside the domestic sphere are rarer than men; it is partly because—well, one knows how women are about their photographs. It is an exceptional person, man or woman, who becomes distinguished before the age of forty. Some of the beauty of women often fades before then, so that the trustees of the National Portrait gallery have not been greatly surprised, when, in several instances, after inviting a distinguished woman to have her picture made for their collection, the lady visited a photographer but refused to approve of the result.

Photographs of more than 150 of the distinguished contemporaries, as the trustees of the gallery call those whom they invite to sit for their collection, have recently been placed on public exhibition. Most of the faces are old, but some of them, notably John Drinkwater, the dramatist, are on the sunny side of middle-age. Only one man in the collection wears a monocle—Austin Chamberlain, the foreign secretary. And even more strange, since these are Britons, is the absence of a pipe.

The procession of prominent men who have passed before the camera for the National Portrait gallery collection includes besides statesmen, politicians, generals, admirals and divines, leaders in other activities—almost all of them, in fact. There are grizzled old ship-building magnates, authors, artists, musicians, doctors of medicine and surgeons, railroad officials.

DISCHARGE MAN HELD AS SLAYER

Evidence Against Ziemendorf
Insufficient to Hold Him,
Court Rules

Holding that evidence against John Ziemendorf, Jr., charged with manslaughter in connection with the fatal injury of George McFarland, was insufficient to warrant holding him, Judge A. M. Spencer discharged Ziemendorf when he was arraigned in municipal court Thursday morning. The court held that the little evidence which had been produced would be of small value in the case.

McFarland, a colored musician at Terrace Gardens, was fatally injured in the collision on W. Spencer and C. Mason streets on April 13. A coroner's jury declared that the Ziemendorf car was traveling at a high rate of speed and a charge of manslaughter was preferred against the driver. He was at liberty on $1,000 bond.

The Weather

WEATHER FOR WISCONSIN
Fair and continued cool tonight and Friday. Frost tonight.
GENERAL WEATHER
The pressure remains low and the weather unsettled over the St. Lawrence valley. The high pressure area which has been remaining stationary over the plain states for several days now is spreading over the southern and eastern states. The frost was light locally Wednesday night and caused but little, if any, damage. Generally fair weather may be expected to continue over Friday with this high pressure. No material change in temperature is looked for until the crest of the "high" passes this section.

FORGERS SENT TO PRISON FOR YEAR

Mrs. Leo F. Leech Blames
Husband's Drinking for Their Difficulties

Waiting examination and pleading guilty to charges of forgery, Leo F. Leech, 40, and his wife, Bessie Leech, 22, were given the maximum sentence for their offense, one year at Waupun, when they were arraigned in municipal court Thursday morning. Judge A. M. Spencer presided.

The couple was married four years ago and had lived in Arkansas. It was brought out in court. Testimony of Mrs. Leech showed that her husband had been a good provider up until a year ago when he started drinking heavily. At that time the couple started forging checks to provide for themselves. Mrs. Leech is about to become a mother and will be placed under the care of the state board of control while at Waupun. It is probable that Mr. and Mrs. Leech will have to face forgery charges in Oakkosh, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan and Milwaukee when their term expires.

Mrs. Leech cashed a forged check for $14 made out Hazel Gaffur and signed George Braden at Geenen's Dry Goods Co. store on April 23 receiving merchandise and change in return. When she attempted to pass a check at the J. C. Penny Co. store, the clerk became suspicious and her arrest followed.

Rattlesnake Tongue First Radio Antenna

By Associated Press
Los Angeles—The original antenna for radio, according to Jack Allman, Los Angeles curator of reptiles, was the rattlesnake's tongue.

"When a rattlesnake is dormant or sleeping," Mr. Allman said recently, "its tongue is idle. But when aroused it starts shooting, that forked tongue from its mouth and seems to both feel and hear through it. I have seen rattlesnakes appear as though uninformed of my approach when their tongues were not moving back and forth from their mouths, but the moment they came conscious of it the tongues started. Rattlesnakes have no ears, but those little tenacles on the end of the tongue serve the purpose."

UNCLE JOE CANNON OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Danville, Ill.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon, former speaker of the house is 82 years old Thursday. He spent the day with his family reading hundreds of telegrams and letters from all sections of the country. Lieutenant Jack Harding, world tier, and Lowell Thomas, historian of the world tier, visited him Thursday morning, and "Uncle Joe" deeply interested in the development of aviation, recalled with a chuckle how he was once called a reckless spendthrift of the people's money when he helped put through congress an appropriation to assist Prof. Langley in his experiments.

COUNCIL ADOPTS DRAWINGS FOR 4TH WARD H.S.

Board of Public Works Will Advertise Bids for Remodeling Building

Plans and specifications prepared by Smith and Brandt for the Fourth district junior high school addition were accepted provisionally by the common council Wednesday night. The plans were approved by the industrial commission at Madison with the provision that the walls of the second floor be built of brick instead of tile, that separate plans be prepared for the heating and ventilating systems and that the walls at the corners be made 12 inches instead of 8 inches in thickness.

The building will be L-shaped, the main wing to be 73 feet long by 30 feet wide, and the portion that will connect this with the Fourth district school is to be 40 feet by 17 feet. Its approximate cost will be $25,000.

The council rescinded former action accepting plans for the school and adopted the plans and specifications as amended by the state industrial commission referring them to the board of public works with instructions to advertise for bids as soon as the Fourth district school board shall have given the city a deed to the property upon which the building is to be erected.

On recommendation of the street and bridge committee which had this matter under advisement since the last meeting of the council, the city engineer is to be instructed to draw plans and specifications for a stairway at the foot of Allen-st. on the bluff at the rear of the vocational school. This stairway is intended to furnish a safer path for residents of the Fourth ward to reach the downtown section than is provided by S. Oneida-st.

REINDEER WON'T LIVE IN NORTHERN MICHIGAN

By Associated Press
Lansing—Experiments conducted by the state department of conservation apparently have demonstrated that reindeer will not thrive in the northern peninsula of Michigan.

About five years ago 60 reindeer were imported and placed on a game farm. It was the hope of sportsmen that they would find the cold stretches of the Lake Superior region to their liking and the northern woods soon would be thickly populated with the Arctic animals. Federal and state agencies had announced that a moosey growth prevalent in the upper peninsula was ideal food for reindeer. The herd at first increased to more than seventy. Then they started to die off and now only seven are left.

Scientists have attributed the high mortality rate to a species of pneumonia, brought on by the climate, and to a lack of lime in the food.

MINNEAPOLIS HAS SPENT FORTUNE TO MAINTAIN ITS ORCHESTRA

LIKE all good things, symphony orchestras come high. As proof of it, consider that the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, which is to appear in Appleton Wednesday, May 13, represents an investment of $1,500,000 made by the businessmen of Minneapolis during the existence of the orchestra. And this figure covers only the operating deficit, and in excess of receipts from admission. Incidentally, the 600 Minneapolis citizens who pay the present yearly deficit of $125,000 buy and pay for seats at the concerts in Minneapolis in addition to their guaranty.

Does it pay? Ask any one of these guarantors? Minneapolis is proud of its title as "The Mill City," as the greatest primary wheat market of the world, as a great manufacturing center, a market for the great Northwest. But, above all, Minneapolis is proud of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra. For, the average person who moves to a city does not go to get a job in the mills, factories or stores. He goes because he seeks a proper atmosphere in which to live, where his family can enjoy the fine things, great music, art, schools, churches. And, it's advantages of this kind that make cities grow—that have made Minneapolis a great city. And the cornerstone of culture in Minneapolis is the Symphony Orchestra.

Started back in 1903 on a modest fund of $10,000 a year, the business men of Minneapolis feel that they have invested their money well. In addition to the joy the Orchestra has brought to Minneapolis, its road tours have earned the fame of the city to every corner of America.

NEARLY INSANE AT TIMES

Mrs. Saunders Tells how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieved Troubles of Change of Life

Knoxville, Tenn.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound while going through the Change of Life. I was very nervous, could not sleep and had melancholy spells. In fact, I was nearly insane at times and my memory was almost a blank. I was so weak I could not do my housework half of the time and suffered dreadfully with my back. My doctor said I would have to worry it out and I went through this for three years before I began taking the Vegetable Compound which I saw advertised. I think it was eight bottles that I took. It has been two years since I took any and I haven't had a doctor since for that trouble. I do all my washing and ironing and I have gained from 116 to 138 pounds. I advise all women who suffer physically and mentally as I did to give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. I hope it will do as much for them as it did for me."—Mrs. T. A. Saunders, 711 E. Depot Street, Knoxville, Tennessee.

HUNDREDS OF FISH KILLED BY POLLUTION

That pollution in the Fox river is killing fish by the hundreds is maintained by members of the De Pere Isaac Walton league which has taken pictures of dead fish that float ashore. SHARP CUT IN OILING PROGRAM

Only One-third of the Amount of Oil Used Last Year Ordered for 1925

Although aldermen have failed to name the streets in their wards in need of oiling, as the mayor requested at a previous session of the council, it was decided at the meeting of the common council Wednesday night to advertise for bids on 60,000 gallons of oil. This decision was arrived at when Alderman Charles Pose, chairman of the committee on streets and bridges, told the mayor and council that he had been informed by the foremen of the street department that six carloads would be sufficient for the city's needs.

Last year 180,000 gallons of oil were used here, and the program has been curtailed by about two thirds for 1925.

No streets will be oiled until petitions have been presented to the council signed by the majority of property owners on the streets. It was stated at the meeting last year it was found that many residents objected to the oiling of streets on which their properties fronted, but only after the oil already had been applied.

You Need This Modern Convenience in Your Summer Cottage

THINK how much nicer your summer cottage community would be if there were no outhouses to be-foul the air with their evil stench and offend the eye with their unsightly presence!

The crude, ugly outhouse has no place in civilized life today. It is a breeder of flies and disease—an inconvenient, embarrassing, unsanitary institution of a bygone age. There is no excuse for its continued existence—not when you can replace it with a self-draining "CHEMOLET" chemical indoor toilet at less than the cost of an ordinary outhouse! (No emptying by hand.)

Write for complete descriptive information and ask your local dealer about the "CHEMOLET". Easily installed in any home or cottage.

STEALING ON CREDIT

Business men lose a good deal by the operations of bandits, but more yet by the operations of apparently reputable patrons. The national association of retail credit men says American business lost $700,000,000 in bad debts last year, of which at least $250,000,000 were "tainted with crime."

There are some merchants who "procure goods and go bankrupt for profit," and some who "lay in stocks on credit and then move to other parts of the country, beating their creditors." There are far more retail customers who buy without any intention of paying, and get away with the goods.

The credit men are now engaged in raising a fund of $2,000,000 to prosecute such fraudulent operations. They are to be encouraged in this work, because it is beneficial to all honest people. The public as a whole has to make good that lost $700,000,000 a year, somehow or other. When merchants and manufacturers are able to collect their money without loss, they can sell cheaper.

BIRD WINGS FOR AIRPLANES

Birds, naturalists explain, are much more successful fliers than the flying reptiles of prehistoric times ever were or than the bat now is. Yet when man took to the air he copied the wings of the bat rather than the wings of birds. As everyone knows, the airplanes fly marvelously, we think, although much experimentation and inventiveness have been necessary to make them fairly stable in the air.

Now, it is said, an experimenter is making use of the feathered wing principle. He does not glue bird feathers to his airplane wings in the fashion of Daedalus, but he does slot the wings in such a way that under certain stresses air may pass between the feather-like parts. An immediate increase of stability was the first result. It is said that during recent experiments at Croydon, Eng., a plane with slotted wings maintained its stability and settled quietly to earth under conditions that would have brought other machines crashing to earth disastrously.

With the prospect of rapidly growing commercial aviation filling the air with flying machines, any discovery which makes for greater flying safety should be thoroughly studied and tested. A disabled airplane which settles gently to earth will mean increased safety for those below as well as for its pilot and passengers.

NEWS PRINT FROM STRAW

It is announced that the London Morning Post is testing a newspaper paper manufactured from common straw by a new French process. Paper has been made from straw before. A coarse brown wrapping paper so made was used for a number of years in butcher shops, but no attempt was made to bleach the paper, which was of very low grade, and finally its manufacture was discontinued.

According to announcement, the French process makes a better paper. It requires only salt and lime, chemicals so inexpensive that it should insure a very moderate cost for the finished product.

If, when the experiments have been carried further, the straw paper proves to be suitable for newspaper publication and economically successful, one by-product of the vast wheat fields of North America will suddenly become exceedingly useful. Perhaps the new paper will come in time to save our vanishing spruce forests.

MRS. SHEPHERD'S ARREST

Now Mrs. William D. Shepherd is formally charged with complicity in the murder of Billy McClintock and his mother. The public, which has been keeping in touch with the developments in this case, has expected Mrs. Shepherd's arrest. If Shepherd is guilty there is every reason for believing that his wife is guilty also. There are admitted circumstances in connection with the death of Young McClintock that are strong circumstantial evidence against Mrs. Shepherd, provided a jury is convinced that the boy was killed by typhus germs administered by Shepherd. This is one of the most unusual criminal cases in the history of the country. If the allegations of the state are true, it is a diabolical conspiracy dating back over years, and hesitated at no life taking to accomplish the purpose, which was the ultimate possession of McClintock millions.

One cannot help wondering what Clarence Darrow, whose philosophy is that society is itself responsible for crime and not the criminals, would make of this particular case. Would he hold that the Shepherds, if guilty, were victims of impulses and surroundings for which they could not be held personally accountable? Would he argue that instead of meriting punishment, they would be entitled to the sympathy and tender solicitude of society? This is Mr. Darrow's view in his defense of criminals like Loeb and Leopold, and the one he recently defended and saved from the gallows.

The psychology of crime is a complicated subject, but no matter to what social conclusions it may lead, there is no denying the fact that sympathy for those who deliberately conspire crime is nothing but sentimental slush. The Darrow theory can have no other effect than to inspire just such murders as that with which the Shepherds are charged, and as those which are of almost daily occurrence in every large city in the country.

FOR TAXI DRIVERS AND OTHERS

Here is a set of commandments for taxicab drivers issued by the Empire State Taxicab Chamber of Commerce:

- Be considerate of pedestrians.
- Never drive recklessly.
- Don't turn corners fast.
- Approach street intersections cautiously.
- Keep brakes in perfect condition.
- Use tire chains.
- Adjust any mechanical trouble before accepting fares.
- Obey the traffic rules and signals.
- Always be careful.
- Always be polite and courteous.

It is a fine set of rules. But why confine it to taxi drivers? They may be a bit reckless now and then, owing largely to their patrons' haste to get somewhere regardless of consequence. But in general, they are probably as careful as drivers of private cars, and more skillful. The rules are good for everybody.

POST CARDS

And now comes the season when mailmen have reason to stop kinda low nouth their pack. For folks, on vacations, remember relations and send picture postal cards back.

The reason may be, just between you and me, that vacationers dislike to write. It isn't so hard just to write out a card, but to mailmen it's really a fright.

We go on a trip and we don't give a rip about anything else but our play. Yet, somehow it's fun, when vacation's begun, just to write and send post cards away.

Your friends never need 'em—yet, maybe they read 'em. They know that they'll come every year. The message that's sent very likely is meant. It's simply, "I wish you were here."

But mailmen, no doubt, with the sad would wail out, for they suffer whenever we roam. And, while we're out fishing, I'll bet they are wishing we'd all hurry up and come home.

BEWARE POISON

A somewhat overzealous internal revenue agent in a district where illicit drug traffic is a scandal, made the mistake of pinching a reputable physician who had permitted a patient to carry home some morphin to take in divided doses over Sunday instead of giving the whole quantity in one big dose in his office as our wise federal rule insists, but the politician who judges such cases brought some discretion to apply and promptly dismissed the charge and gave the physician a formal certificate showing that there had been no unprofessional conduct.

A reader of this column cut a formula out of the paper and had a druggist prepare it. The formula was for eye drops and consisted of 10 grains of boracic acid, one grain of zinc sulphate and one ounce of distilled water, a drop or two to be put in the eyes once or twice a day for a few weeks, to relieve the redness and irritation of simple chronic conjunctivitis or lid inflammation. The druggist pasted a label on the vial which indicated that the stuff was poisonous, and the reader was afraid to use it. That same druggist keeps on his shelves and sells to any dupe who cares to buy hokum, at least one nostrum which contains boracic acid and zinc sulphate but he never deems a poison label necessary when he can wheedle the unwise into paying the fancy price for the mystery in the nostrum.

Most of the real poisons sold indiscriminately carry no poison label. On the contrary, the unscrupulous purchaser is usually assured by the manufacturer of the poisonous nostrum that it is perfectly harmless, and too often the unprincipled agent adds his own personal assurance in order to effect a sale. I have known a druggist in order to save the life of the victim of this particular line of legitimate trade, when the "perfectly harmless" dope happened to contain more opium or other poison than a feeble person could stand.

Speaking of the free and easy distribution of poisons, here is a startling instance: Minnie McMahon, a factory inspector for the New York labor department, tells in the Industrial Hygiene Bulletin how "new health hazards are substituted for old." The silencing of mirrors was formerly done with mercury amalgam, but today it is generally done with silver nitrate. The workers constantly exposed to silver nitrate may develop argyria, a peculiar slate blue discoloration of the skin which is impossible to remove. But the striking feature is the method commonly used by the workers to remove the black stains which silver nitrate leaves on the hands. It seems that a jar of sodium cyanide is generally kept on the wash room shelf and workers nonchalantly reach in and take a lump of the deadly poison to rub on their hands. Sodium cyanide is a soluble salt of hydrocyanic acid, commonly known as prussic acid, and people generally assume that such a lethal poison is not readily obtainable. If a worker using this method of removing silver nitrate stains happened to leave a wee bit of the cyanide in his hands and then happened to place his finger in his mouth, a fine little case for the coroner might readily occur.

Beware the poison label—its presence or absence is largely subject to whim.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

ALL MILK, No. 10. What is the health of a grown person to drink cows' milk and no water? (H. R. T.)
Answer.—If one drinks as much as three quarts of cows' milk daily he will get enough water, at least enough for the requirements of a resting person.

Eat All But the Core

In a reply to a query you said that eating baked apple is a healthful habit especially if one eats the skin with the apple. From this infer that the skin of the apple has some special virtue. Will you kindly tell me what it is. (D. J. J.)

Answer.—The skin furnishes a wholesome roughage to stimulate digestion and the peristalsis or waves of propulsive motion in the intestine. The mineral salts lie in or close under the skin and are largely lost if the apple peel is discarded. The vitamins likewise lie close under the skin.

TAXING AUTOMOBILES

Editor Post-Crescent: In Saturday's issue of the Post-Crescent you stated that the undersigned was confined to his home on May 2nd, on account of sickness caused by trying to assess all automobiles on sales floors on May 1st. In this you are in error as I was confined to my home the day before May 1st, and not the day after, whether automobiles had anything to do with it or not I do not know, although I think I caught cold riding in one. Since you have opened the subject a little discussion of it may not be amiss.

The law provides that personal property shall be assessed to the owner where found on May 1st; automobiles are personal property.

The bulk of automobile sales are made during April and May, the dealers tell me that after July 1st, the new models for the next year are out and nobody buys the old model after the new model is out.

A person buying a automobile will figure that if he buys it after May 1st, he will not be taxed and will save anywhere from $20 to $100 depending on the cost of the car, so most of the cars are sold for delivery May 2nd to May 15th.

The dealer to deliver must take cars from the factory when he can get them with the result that if he does not make some arrangement to drive the cars out of the city he will be taxed on a lot of cars he may not have in his possession 4 or 5 days during the year, and the man that drives the car the last seven or eight months of the year does not pay any tax. The result is that you have new cars stored in farmers' barns all around the city, and not driven to the city until after May 1st.

You have automobile concerns buying cars and storing them in Michigan and driving them into Wisconsin after May 1st. You have carloads of cars billed to other cities and demurrage paid to May 1st, then unloaded and driven to Appleton. The result is that municipalities are losing the tax on thousands of new cars every year, that is those that are in transit, or stored outside the corporate limits and not entered on the company's books until after May 1st.

If the law was changed so that every person would pay a tax for the number of months he owned the car, it would stop all this effort to have as few cars as possible in show rooms on May 1st. Most dealers are fair and want to pay any just tax but when the law puts the burden of the full years tax on them with only a week's possession they figure it is wrong.

It seems to me that any law that makes a good and honest citizen scheme to evade, must have something wrong with it, and should be changed. The operation of this tax law seems parallel with what a tax man once said about the operation of the assessment of moneys and credits in Illinois he said that in Illinois if a man had $1000, and put it in the bank he would get $30 per year interest, but if he reported it for tax and want to pay any just tax but he said the law done no harm's nobody ever reported any money for taxation and it seems to me that a very small percent of new cars are reported for taxation the first year.

Statistics show that 99 per cent of the businessmen are honest, and I do not think that automobile dealers would plan and arrange these shipments to evade the tax if they thought the tax was just.

Taxes we must admit are high and becoming a burden but the assessment has nothing to do with it. Taxes are made by your state, county, city and school boards and bodies and there is only one way to reduce them, not by homestead acts, and repelling personal property offsets and the like, but those in power must stop spending money, and not until they do will your taxes be any lower.

When these new laws are passed, making additional tax such as gasoline tax, repeal of personal property offset etc., they tell us that by getting additional money this way it will lessen the burden on real estate, get out your tax receipts for the last six years, look them over and you will find that there is from 100 to 200 per cent increase instead of any decrease. Of course we realize that under present conditions there must be some increase, but this seems a little more than we ought to have.

And remember Mr. Taxpayer that taxes no matter in what form, personal, income, gasoline, real estate or what, in the ledger they are all charged to the tax account, and it all comes out of the same pocket. Mr. Thomas Reid, late editor of the Post said to me, "Mr. Rule this tax action system is wrong and some day an expert will come along and straighten the whole system out. We may not see it, but it is coming." I think Mr. Reid was right but to date we have not found the expert.

Yours respectfully,
Albert C. Rule, Assessor.

World's News Told In Brief, Simple Style

BY CHARLES F. STEWART

European governments were badly scared by threats of "red" uprisings on May day, which is the old world Labor day. Even normally sensible England reported a plot to kill Foreign Minister Chamberlain. But this country hasn't any right to brag of staid nerves. The New York police broke up 10 meetings, supposedly of communists who were planning an outbreak. And then May day passed in perfect quietness—everywhere. The governments were just afraid of their own shadows.

England has gone back to the gold standard, abandoned early in the war. From a banking standpoint it's a great triumph. Many able English financiers, however, think it was premature. They fear it will lighten money and cripple industry, already in bad enough shape. Still, it strengthens British credit.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill also announces some English tariff increases. He says they're for revenue only, but there's an evident trend toward protection in this traditionally free trade country.

The chancellor likewise gave notice of small income tax reductions and a liberalization of old age pension and workmen's insurance regulations. It's a conservative party program and the party's opponents deny it will benefit the poor in the slightest.

Everything President-elect Von Hindenburg has said since victory sounds sober, sensible and friendly. He's keeping the late President Ebert's chancellor, or premier, Dr. Luther. He declares for the Dawes plan. He says he's in favor of a permanent peace pact with other European powers. It isn't a bit like what alarmists predicted when he was elected.

The "war game" in the Pacific resulted in the theoretical capture of the Hawaiian Islands by America's "blue navy." The islands' fleet of airplanes, as a defensive force, did no theoretical damage to the theoretical enemy. They weren't much of a fleet, however. For that matter, neither did the navy's flyers theoretically accomplish much—nor its submarines. They were all right as far as they went but there weren't enough of them. All this is according to the experts, whose verdict is that the navy is defective and America's coast defenses equally so.

Chairman O'Connor of the shipping board proposes to have the United States government pay a bonus, on top of their wages, to American merchant sailors, so that the shipping companies won't have to pay them so much. In other words, he wants the government to pay part of the sailors' wages. He calls this an "alternative" to a ship subsidy. Of course, in reality it's nothing but a subsidy.

Lots Of Fun In Dialog Of Club Comedy

"Spreading the News," a whimsical Irish one act play by Lady Gregory, will be given as one of the group of plays presented by the Dramatic Workshop of Appleton Womens club on Tuesday, May 12 at Appleton high school. An amusing half hour will be spent by the audience in listening to apparently innocent remarks becoming distorted as they travel from mouth to mouth. A deaf apollo woman is the unwitting means of spreading the slander which complicates the plot, and Red Jack Smith becomes a murderer in the eyes of the market people because the appearance has twisted words.

The part of Jack Smith will be played by Miss Emma Barclay. Others in the cast are: Bartley Fallon, Frances Nelson; Mrs. Fallon, Mrs. H. Dean; Shawn Barry, Anna Moore; The Coss, Laura E. Greene; James Ryan, Ella Mittak; Mrs. Torrey, Lynda Hollenbeck; Mrs. Tulley, Dorothy Verrier; Jo Muldoon, Laura Schoettler; magistrate, Katherine Arnold. The presentation is being coached by Mrs. John Engel, Jr.

Lady Gregory, the author, is one of the foremost Irish writers living today, and takes her place with Yeats, H. D. and Dunsany. She has tried to bring back Irish folk lore and has succeeded in writing charming Gaelic comedies.

GIFT OF LIONS CLUB MADE H. S. BAND POSSIBLE

Musical Organization Plays
First Public Concert Friday Night

Appleton high school's band, which presents its first public concert in Lawrence Memorial chapel Friday evening grew out of the desire of Appleton Lions club to stimulate interest in music among pupils of the high school. Almost two years ago the luncheon club began raising $1,000 and last September the club purchased 27 instruments which were turned over to the school.

When the instruments were delivered to the school, the students showed their interest in making the band a success and instruments were disposed of in a short time and rehearsals started at once. In choosing members of the band, only sophomores and freshmen were admitted with the exception of a few upper classmen, who owned their own instruments. This was done so that the band would have a chance to get larger instead of decreasing with the graduation of upperclassmen.

The first appearance of the band was at a Lions club luncheon, where the boys were the guests of the club. The second occasion was a Rotary luncheon and the next at the Neenah-Appleton basketball game, where the band showed that it is able to handle the instruments.

The personnel of the band:
Cornets—Edward Steenis, Richard Tuttrup, Katherine Kilborn, William Meyer, Charles Scott, Carl Schuetter, Herbert Lutz, Mark Catlin and Glenn Opperman; altos—Clem Kitzinger, Leo Schreiber, George Thies, Theodore Jansen; baritone—Henry Hafbeck and Carl Schieber; trombones—Richard Joyce, Sterling Schmalz, Clarence Lembke and Ronald Westphal; bass—Glen Hoffman and Donald MacGregor; clarinet—Francis Rooney, Lloyd Hoh, Robert Wolf, Wilber Schmalz, Elizabeth Meating, Helen Zeigler, Charles Peerenboom, Romona Hussman, Robert MacGregor, Robert Stammer, Annette Tiedt, Kenneth Coffey, Merton Zahrt; Herbert Mossholder, Caroline Schuch, piccolo—Ethel Goudemann; saxophones—Robert Cos, Ben Wadsworth, Ray Hoh and Buster Montgomery; drums—Carl Jabe and Alfred Wickesberg.

This meeting is the first of three regional gatherings arranged by Wisconsin Association of Real Estate Brokers.

Every real estate man in the locality, whether a member of a local board, has been invited to attend. The purpose is to bring to the large majority of dealers the same discussion and enlightenment on problems that are obtained by a smaller number at the state convention.

Otto N. Ludwig, Milwaukee, state president, will act as chairman, and Perry O. Powell, Milwaukee, executive secretary, probably will be the principal speaker. The visitors will be welcomed by Daniel P. Steinberg, president of Appleton Real Estate Board.

BAR ASSOCIATION TO MEET NEXT MONDAY NOON

George Misterck of Five Corners has sold his 80-acre farm to Frank Lemke. The sale was negotiated through William Krautkramer.

Pending legislation and the present marketing conditions in the real estate field will be discussed. The situation in rural dealings, the recreational resources of the state and activities and the convention of the association also will be given consideration. Similar gatherings are planned in two other sections of the state, one of them perhaps at Eau Claire and the other at Madison or Beloit.

One of the first considerations of the designers and builders of the new good Maxwell was to make sure of ample strength.

Transmission and rear axle are strong enough for the most powerful lugging thorough deep sand and mud. In every particular the car is built to do the job—whatever the job may be—and do it unfalteringly.

The new good Maxwell is in truth a car of exceptional quality. The motor is designed not only to deliver 58 miles an hour and accelerate from 5 to 25 in 8 seconds. It also combines such structural features as force feed lubrication to main bearings.

Facts like these account for the car's dependable service and low maintenance costs. We would like an opportunity to tell you the complete Maxwell story. But most of all we are eager to demonstrate the car's finer results and riding qualities.

You can't fight the Devil with cream puffs

BILLY SUNDAY is called sensational. He is. He doesn't believe in fighting the devil with cream puffs. He gets audiences—and converts. TRUE STORY has been called sensational. It is. This magazine believes in fighting the devil with his own weapons—it gets readers and results.

Hundreds of thousands of people jam the biggest auditoriums in the United States to hear Billy Sunday. He doesn't believe the road to heaven is paved with soft words.

Yes, TRUE STORY is sensational—the Master Himself was sensational—when He turned to those who were about to stone a fallen woman, and said, "He that is without sin among you let him first cast a stone,"—when He advised the rich young man to sell all he possessed and give the proceeds to the poor—when He scourged the money changers and drove them from the Temple.

Perhaps you decry sensationalism and because TRUE STORY is sensational, you think "something ought to be done about it."

Then you have never read TRUE STORY with an unprejudiced mind.

If you read TRUE STORY with the thought of getting something uplifting out of it, something you can pass along to others, who perhaps need the lessons it teaches more than you—then you cannot be disappointed.

TRUE STORY is life's mirror. It will not change—unless truth changes. It will be tomorrow what it is today—the most frank, sincere and helpful magazine in America.

We have not known a single instance of any human being, young or old, that has been harmed by reading TRUE STORY. On the contrary thousands have told us that TRUE STORY has guided them through mazes of evil forces and evil influences, into the light of moral sanity and reason.

A ministerial board passes on every story submitted to this magazine. TRUE STORY is the only magazine that ever adopted this policy to protect the moral and spiritual welfare of its readers.

Indeed, TRUE STORY is such a great moral force that many ministers recommend it to the young people of their congregation and it goes into millions of homes and helps solve the problems of religious workers where the searchlight of truth is needed.

If to fight the devil with real weapons is sensational, then TRUE STORY is sensational—just as Billy Sunday is sensational.

TRUE STORY is truly the Billy Sunday among magazines.

'RADIO' PROGRAM AT H. S. PARTY

Annual Senior-Junior Dinner Dance Is to Be Held in Elk Hall

Kaukauna—Members of the Junior class of the high school are making elaborate preparations for the annual junior-senior banquet which will be given Tuesday evening, May 12, in the Elk hall. For the first time in history the banquet will be held outside the school walls. The increasing numbers of students in the junior and senior groups have made rooms in the high school inadequate and a semi-formal dancing party is scheduled to follow the banquet which will require a much larger space than is ordinarily used.

Serving will begin promptly at 5:30. The entire party is being cleverly arranged to suggest radio. All speeches will be broadcast. Dancing will be in order from 8:30 until 10:30 with music ever "Radio" by the "Silvertown Cord orchestra." There are about 40 seniors and 75 juniors. In addition members of the faculty and school board will be invited, making about 160 persons at the gathering. Each student will be allowed to bring one guest who will be admitted to the hall for dancing at 8:30.

The junior class has this year continued the precedent established a term or two ago, that of raising funds during the year to pay for the event rather than depending upon subscriptions from juniors. Previously the social activities around commencement time proved a great financial strain upon the students and many were forced to skip the social events. This year carry sales and motion picture shows conducted by the juniors created an adequate fund.

Rev. Daniel Woodward, grand chaplain, and other members of the grand council of Wisconsin, were present to assist in the work. This was the second meeting of the Green Bay council within six weeks to put on the ceremonies.

PAVE OR REMOVE RAILS, WAUPACA UTILITY IS TOLD

Electric Company Has Franchise but Does not Operate Its Street Car

Waupaca — Waupaca city council met in regular session on Tuesday night. A sum of $400 was granted the city band for immediate use, and $100 also was granted the Grand Army of the Republic for Memorial day use. Haydon Pump and Blower company of Appleton, was awarded the contract to supply and install the gas-line power pumping unit at the well on S. Main-st. The price is to be $2621.50 and $200 for installation. The council passed a resolution demanding that Waupaca Electric Light and Railway company pave between its tracks within the city limits the expiration of the franchise or remove the rails within a period of 30 days more. Though the electric company has not operated its car service for more than six months, it still retains its franchise through an indeterminate permit granted some years ago by the state railroad commission.

A Stevens Point firm was granted the privilege of installing first alarm service on first The Appleton Post is to be the official paper of the city for this year. Pay of laborers was set at 30 cents an hour and that of men with teams at 60 cents an hour.

A petition is being circulated throughout the county requesting that the county board meet in a special session commencing May 18, to organize, consider appropriation of the various towns and to consider the advisability of constructing a concrete road from the city of Waupaca to Wisconsin Veterans home.

The Arthur La Valley case is being heart in circuit court here, and reveals and the same facts as was shown during the trial of a year ago. Much of the testimony is along the same line as is now being presented by the state. The only difference is the lack of memory by some of the younger witnesses, who apparently do not recall the answers they gave to many of the same questions. Miss Molly Kishmann, upon whom it is alleged La Valley made an assault now is 14 years old and was about 12 at the time. She also has difficulty in remembering some of the incidents past related. At least another day will be required to complete the trial. The state's evidence was expected to be given by Wednesday afternoon.

Jack Downs lost to Carl Van Warden in two straight falls in a wrestling match Tuesday night at the local armory. The veteran, former middleweight champion now 42 years old, has lost none of his cunningness nor great skill on the mat. Physically a perfect man, at his present age, he was forced to bow to defeat to the young, powerful fast Van Warden who is held a chance at the middleweight title by Johnny Myers. The first fall came in 20 minutes and the last in 15.

The exhibition was well received by the crowd many of whom stated it was the best they have witnessed. The semi-windup between Young Smith, an Onida Indian, and Dean Hibbard of this city, resulted in a 15-minute draw. These men were nearly evenly matched and as a result will wrestle for one hour or two best out of three, as the semi-windup to the next match scheduled for Tuesday night at the armory. The wind-up of this match will bring together Mats Madison, the Colorado cowboy, and possibly a man from Fond du Lac.

Housekeepers! Save Your Strength During The Hot Weather!

An important booklet among the Better Homes series offered this week is one which tells the housekeeper how to conserve her time and strength by making use of labor-saving devices. Anything that lessens woman's work contributes to better home life.

A little study and practical direction may easily make the difference between a tired, overworked housekeeper, and one who has some time and energy left for recreation and life's higher purposes after the day's work is done. The Department of Agriculture has issued a splendid illustrated booklet on home conveniences which tells how to make a kitchen cabinet, a fireless cooker, a drain that does away with the drying of dishes, a serving tray, an iceless refrigerator, a cold box for food, a folding ironing board and other labor and time saving devices.

Bebe Daniels comes to the Appleton Theatre today as the star of the Paramount picture, "Miss Bluebeard," directed by Frank Tuttle—a picture, zation of the Broadway stage play, "Little Miss Bluebeard," by Avery Hopwood.

The screen play, by Townsend Marston, deals with a series of matrimonial adventures and gives Miss Daniels a fine opportunity to display her talents as a comedienne.

Bebe's role in the picture is one of a French actress. She goes to London on a holiday and, through a series of most amusing incidents enroute, she arrives there the wife of two men.

This piquant situation and the complications that follow are said to provide the volatile Bebe with an excellent opportunity for her comudy talents. DISMISS SMITH SUIT FOR FEES IN NICHOLS DEAL

Judge Spencer Shows in Decision That Promoter Forfeited Contract Rights

Attorney E. C. Smith's suit against Nichols Land Co., Nichols, to recover $4,573 due him in commission has been dismissed by Judge A. M. Spencer of municipal court, who had each side file a brief so he could take the case under advisement. Nichols is instructed to pay its own attorney fees.

Judge Spencer also dismissed the counterclaim made by Nichols Land company against Mr. Smith, holding that it was not sustained by the evidence. He ordered that the prevailing party may draw judgment in the case and finding according to the opinion.

It was Mr. Smith's contention while practicing law at Seymour that Nichols Land Co. agreed to pay him $5,000 commission for the sale of its property to J. A. Burrichter of St. Paul, Minn., a promoter. He alleged that $4,573 still was due him for commission and attorney fees.

BOUND BY NICHOLS' ACT
Nicholas Land Co., contended that it should not be held for the contract executed by A. L. Nichols, president as the document was executed without knowledge and consent of the stockholders. Judge Spencer says in his decision that Mr. Nichols had a legal right to list the property with Mr. Smith and that the company was bound by his acts.

There also was a contention as to whether the contract made in November, 1922 between Mr. Burrichter and the land company was a contract of sale or an agreement to have the former act as the company's agent in disposing of the land.

Judge Spencer declares that Mr. Burrichter paid Nichols Land Co., nothing, and that he left the country after a few months during which he contracted debts of $25,000 at Nichols for which judgments were on record.

NO PURCHASE INTENDED
Money paid to Mr. Smith was legal the judge held. He declares that Mr. Burrichter failed to exercise his rights under the contract and so forfeited by its terms, without any fault on the part of the defendant. Mr. Burrichter, he holds, was never able, ready or willing to purchase land mentioned in the contract and did not do so.

The contract made Nov. 4, 1922 between Nichols Land Co. and J. A. Burrichter of St. Paul was an agreement for the sale of the platted part of Nichols for $80,675 on several conditions. Among them was the transfer of the property upon payment of $45,000, after which a mortgage was to be taken on the balance of the property. The term of the contract was for 14 months. According to an inventory of the entire property it was worth approximately $160,000.

RURAL COMMITTEE ENDS ITS CONTEST SURVEY

H. L. Post's committee on city and rural relations is the first to complete its survey for the better cities contest and turn in its report to Mayor John Goodland, Jr., chairman. The city and rural relations committee has the longest questionnaire to fill out of any of the contest groups, yet was the first to finish. The contest is scheduled to close June 1.

Cops' Car Permit Idea Condemned And Praised

Appleton's system of issuing police permit plates for automobiles until the state license arrives is hoed in the small towns and praised in the big cities, according to stories which reach the desk here when the plates are turned in by car owners.

An Appleton autolite was stopped in Tipton a few days ago by the village marshal and inquiry made as to the meaning of the plates on his car reading "App." and a number. The driver explained but he was haled before the sheriff, who said such an arrangement was not acceptable to him. The driver even produced his receipt from the secretary of state to show that he had applied for a license and informed the sheriff that the police here issued no plates until evidence of the application is shown.

None of this sufficed in the way of an explanation. The autolite's name and address were taken down and the sheriff said he would communicate with the police here. No such inquiry was made and it was believed the sheriff thought better of the matter after the Appleton men left.

Another local automobile owner was stopped by the police of St. Paul, Minn., when his car carried the local permit plates. The policeman wanted to know what "App." stood for. The driver explained the arrangement and showed his state application receipt. "That's a good system," said the officer. "It is the best I have ever heard of and your city ought to be complimented for using a plan like that."

The autolite was allowed to drive around the city without further questioning.

Appleton's system is more effective than that of some other cities because the plates used here are the same color as the state licenses. There can be no doubt then as to the validity of the permits. Oshkosh and Fond du Lac use black and white plates, the colors of the 1924 licenses. Economy was exercised so as not to buy new plates but an autolite having plates from last year could easily put them into use on his car and avoid paying a license for a time. This kind of saving is not necessary, the police here find, because the revenue received from the licensing system quickly pays the cost of the plates and leaves a good income for the police pension fund. Each motorist pays a dollar when he receives his permit and is refunded 75 cents when his state license arrives and he brings back the Appleton plates.

Almost 800 local permits have been issued this spring largely to purchasers of new and used cars. They are sold only to car owners living within the city of Appleton, however, and strangers here must show their state license application or receipt if they do not possess a 1925 license.

COUNCIL DEFERS ACTION ON STREET COMMISSIONER

SEEK MAN WHO WILL RELIEVE CITY ENGINEER

Library Board Asks Council for Office in Basement of City Hall

Action on the method of engaging an assistant street commissioner to relieve R. M. Connelly, city engineer, of his work as head of the street department was deferred Wednesday night by the city council, after a short discussion of the method of fixing the salary. It was decided that the council should consider the various applications offered, and engage the man whose qualifications best suit him to the position as a city engineer. He would be assistant to the city engineer, who would continue nominally to be the head of the street department and would sign all papers as commissioner. The assistant commissioner would not have supervisory control over the streets, and thus permit the engineer to devote all of his time to his regular duties.

The council granted the request of the George Eggleston post of Civil war veterans to appropriate $150 to defray expenses of Memorial day celebration and provided a concert by the band.

A petition by the library board for permission to use a room in the southeast corner of the basement of the city hall as an office was referred to the public grounds and buildings committee for investigation. Alderman Charles Fose told the council that the room in question had been redecorated for the use of the deputy revenue collector who had requested office space, and a discussion ensued in which it was suggested that in other cities the revenue collector generally found office room in the post-office. Alderman Fose said that this would be impossible here because the postoffice already is crowded. All agreed that the presence of the collector here was desirable and that he should be granted every facility that might keep him in the city.

In view of the great increase in his work, the city building inspector requested that his office be installed in his office in place of the drawing table he now uses, and this request also was referred to the committee on public grounds and buildings.

Bids of Louis Wittman, Robert Schultz and Fred Lillge for the building of concrete sidewalks were opened and found to be 17 cents per square foot each. For this reason it was voted to divide all city work among the three equally.

The Post-Crescent was declared the official newspaper of the city, and it was decided to continue to publish all proceedings of the council and other legal matters in this paper, at the prevailing legal rates.

Bids from two local banks were opened on the city's financial business. The Citizens National bank offered to pay 2 per cent on deposits and demand, 6 per cent on interest on loans, while the First National bank offered 2 1/2 per cent on deposits and asked 6 per cent on loans. The bid of asked 6 per cent on loans. The bid of cent lower on deposit than last year, and 1 per cent higher as to interest on loans. These bids were referred to the finance committee.

Joseph Ashauer and Oscar R. Gmeiner were granted Class A licenses to conduct soft drink parlors, on recommendation of the police and license committee. A petition by Earl Miller, Inc., building contractors to open a street through blocks 35 and 36 in the Third ward plat was referred to the street and bridge committee for investigation. The proposed new street would run from W. Fourth-st to Prospect-ave near Story-st.

Petition of residents of Westminster for a sewer was refused on recommendation of the committee on streets and bridges, which decided that it would be better to postpone this action until the contemplated sewer survey is completed.

Permission for the installation of water main extensions on W. Fourth-st was granted on recommendation of the fire and water committee, but the petition of residents of Washington, N. Meade and E. Circle-sts was referred to the fire and water committee for investigation, with a reminder from Mayor John Goodland, Jr., that the funds in the treasury for this purpose were nearly exhausted. A petition for the installation of sewer on Outagamie-st was referred to the street and bridge committee.

CATLIN WRITES RESOLUTION AND THEN FIGHTS IT

Mark S. Catlin, new alderman from the First ward, was in the peculiar position of repudiating his own brain-child Wednesday night when he argued against adoption of a resolution which he drafted and presented to the common council. The resolution protested against passage of a bill by the state legislature which would tax banks on the basis of income instead of bank stock, as they now are being taxed. Mr. Catlin prepared the resolution at the instance of Mayor John Goodland, and when it was presented he was the only one to oppose it.

Mr. Catlin has been attorney for a bank here which has fought the stock tax on the grounds that it was discriminatory. The Supreme court, however, has held that the tax is constitutional. The common council doesn't want the bank stock tax law changed and is protesting against the proposal to tax banks on basis of income, as the banks desire.

Haitians Happy Under Control Of U. S. Government

Anarchy Wiped Out and Peace Restored in Nine Years of American Occupation

By Associated Press
Port-au-Prince, Haiti.—The accomplishments of the United States during the occupation of the island of Haiti that has extended over nine years are worthy of note. All the activities necessary to the rehabilitation of the country have been supervised and directed by Americans, with distinct benefit to the republic.

The one great outstanding result of this work is the knowledge of all Haitians and especially the peasant working class that they are free of the menace of confiscation of their property and that their lives are safe. The poorest man in the island knows he will be protected in his home, that he will be able to enjoy the fruits of his labors and that he is free to go and come and carry his possessions with him.

PLEDGES REMEDY
Anarchy reigned in Haiti in July, 1915, and American marines were landed for the protection of the lives and property of American and foreign citizens. Two months later the United States made a treaty with Haiti by which the former country pledged itself to remedy the financial situation and to develop the economic possibilities of the republic.

At this time Haiti was bankrupt with a national debt of $32,000,000. Also she had no credit. Today the national debt is slightly under $25,000,000 the currency is at par in the world's markets, a modern budget system has been established, and a cash reserve of $1,306,856 has been built up.

When the American marines landed in the summer of 1915, sanitation was medieval in character and disease was rampant. Today ten hospitals are in operation and dispensaries are maintained in areas outside the hospital zones. Clinics are held in remote places and sanitary inspection maintained in all cities and towns and the most stringent regulations are enforced and carried out. It took years of patient effort to overcome the ignorance of the natives and the influence of the witchcraft and voodoo doctors, but today the people are flocking to the American medical men for relief.

Maternity is being checked and native doctors and nurses are being trained.

Safety Talks Reduce Children Fatalities

Los Angeles—A reduction of 21 per cent in child fatalities due to motor vehicles has been made through systematic teaching of safety in the public schools of Los Angeles. It has been revealed in a check made by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

The safety curriculum in Los Angeles public schools was inaugurated about three years ago through the cooperation of the board of education and the public safety department of the automobile club. Children are given practical instruction and in addition they compete in designing posters and verses for bulletins used in the safety movement. Diplomas are issued to students completing the course.

The still and the owned were found in the basement. Heppner was alone at the time the raid was made.

COMMITTEE SURVEYS BATHING FACILITIES

Menasha—The Rev. R. A. Heron, R. C. Miller and Carl Walker are making a survey of the present swimming beach and other possible sites that might prove desirable with a view of providing a bathing place that everyone in Menasha might be pleased to patronize.

It is felt that the present site is a very desirable one and that with the help of some of the boys or with the employment of help this location might be made a beautiful beach. To make it answer all purposes would require the clearing away of some of the stone and the building of a pier and raft, the latter to be located at a reasonable distance from shore and in safe proximity to the pier.

MRS. STRANGE DONATES DOTY CABIN TO CITY

Neenah—The Gov. Doty log cabin, built and used by the first governor of Wisconsin, is now the property of Neenah. The cabin, which has weathered many years was presented to the city by its present owner, Mrs. John Strange, at the Wednesday evening meeting of the city council.

The city is required to move the cabin from its present site to a permanent place in the Doty Island park which is now being constructed. The cabin must be kept in permanent repair and its present interior arrangement is to be retained.

MORE ECONOMY IS NEW KEYNOTE OF NEENAH COUNCIL

Aldermen Determined to Pare
Expenditures to Bare Necessities

Neenah—Feeling that the city was spending a large sum each year for its street lighting, amounting to about $8,000, an effort will be made to cut down as far as possible all further requests for street lights. This was one of the important matters brought before the city council Wednesday evening at its regular meeting.

The question caused quite a heated discussion when Alderman Martin of the Second ward entered a complaint against the lights recently placed on Main street leading to the Soo line passenger station. Mr. Martin claimed that the majority of the committee had voted for 250 watts, but 100 watt lamps were installed instead.

The same state of affairs exists in the water works department which has many requests for water mains but which will have to be held over until the city can afford them.

Expenditures during the last two weeks totaled $5,642.43, of which $4,899.83 was from the general fund; $1,451.90 from street, highway and bridge fund and $350.65 for the poor.

A request for a raise of salary for the city engineer of $500 a year, was taken under consideration.

E. A. Severson, secretary of the board of education, presented his resignation as a member of the board, claiming that since engaging in business recently his time is too much taken up to allow him to continue on the board. The resignation was not accepted by the council which felt that Mr. Severson was too valuable a man to lose, especially at this time when the board of education is to erect a new school building.

Neenah will continue to use the old sprinkler for keeping the streets clean as the recommendation from the committee on streets, highways and bridges to purchase a 750 gallon horse-drawn flusher to cost $2,000, was lost when a vote was taken.

A general housecleaning will take place in the city hall when bids are let for redecorating the second story and council chamber of the city hall. Alderman Owens complained against the condition of the interior of the building.

Neenah's poor may be housed in neat modern buildings in the near future if plans of the committee on parks and public buildings and poor materialize. At present the "tenement" house being used by several of the poor families is in bad shape and beyond repair and upon recommendation of Alderman Martin of the First ward, the cost of erecting several small homes to take the place of the old one will be ascertained.

Complaints against the Soo line making up trains at the Winnebago-ave crossing by property owners in the neighborhood who claimed that they are unable to sleep on account of the noise made, will be investigated by the city attorney.

As soon as the attorney general can give his opinion on several doubtful questions, Neenah can expect state action on erection of bridges. It was stated in a letter from the highway commission received Tuesday by the city clerk.

Alderman Marty said merchants on Wisconsin-ave are taking up all the parking room along the streets with their own cars and delivery trucks, which prevented people who wished to park their cars and do shopping from doing so. This caused a discussion of a public parking place in the stock fair grounds on West Highway.

The council appropriated $100 as its share toward the Memorial day program expenses. The application of Charles Ditter, proprietor of the Neenah News depot, Post Wisconsin-ave, for a license to sell soft drinks was granted. Arrangements to attend the annual meeting of the League of Municipalities in Madison, May 27, will be made at the next meeting of the council.

NEENAH VOTES TO PAY FOR TEN BAND CONCERTS

Neenah—Neenah will have concerts during the summer months by the Twin City band. It was decided Wednesday evening when the council went on record to support the band and provide for ten concerts. This matter was brought before the aldermen when Mayor Sande read an invitation from Mr. Mumm, director, to the members of the council asking them to be present at the concert to be given in the armory on the evening of May 12.

The city of Neenah, having other heavy expenses to meet during the coming year, did not feel as though it could assist financially in sponsoring the concerts.

A PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

RECIPES

Hold Man's Interest By Being 'Pal'

There is scarcely a living man—not matter how rough he may seem—but has in his dream of an ideal woman. Most men marry their ideals. The disillusionment of married life comes when the wife falls short of the ideal. She may start out sweet, soft-voiced, sympathetic and filled with understanding—as a bride. But marriage is a rough road at best. It is filled with hard work and dullness and responsibility for any woman. And it isn't the easiest thing in the world to remain sweet and gentle under the circumstances, as any woman who wears a plain gold ring can tell you.

The wise wife is the one who makes up her mind that no matter what happens she will give some time to her husband every day. If he is tired at night, she might try reading aloud to him, or talking to him about interesting things—not household worries.

Cooking and darning and ironing are important parts of home-making. But none of them is as important as just being a pal to the man who picked you out for his life partner.

So many letters come to me from women who complain that they have lost their husband's love. I wonder if they ever really tried to keep it—in the right way? By holding their husband's interest? Try it, wives! It works.

FIVE MINUTES TREATMENT A DAY WILL BEAUTIFY YOUR EYELASHES

BY RUTH ANDREA

There's nothing I admire more in women than lovely, luxuriant eyelashes and eyebrows, and I have a theory that they are within the reach of everyone.

I have the finest little brush, such as is used for water colors which I dip into warm olive castor oil and go over my brows and lashes with it.

Naturally I'm careful not to get the least bit of oil in my eyes as it would irritate them.

As regularly as I brush my hair, I brush my brows with an eyebrow brush so that they grow as they should and always look well kept. This particular beauty stunt doesn't take five minutes a day, but it is five minutes well spent.

Peak Crowns For The New Spring Hats

The pronounced feature in spring millinery is the attenuated crown, whether it rises sharply or roundly, as long as it approaches a peak, says the Dry Goods Economist. Even large hats follow this lead. The crown may be indented or not. The bent or manipulated crown is accomplished in straw, if not as easily at least as effectively, as in felt.

Peak crowns may be trimmed either at top or at side. Top trimmings include flowers in natural of felt, or in straw or felt; feathers in brush, pompon or drooping forms; bows of ribbon and felt, and other devices.

The small hat takes precedence, a usuel, and includes tall brim, short back, and various forms of turbans. The best is less noticeable for the moment, also the squishy crown hat. Combinations of fabric and straw are most pronounced, with the expectation of a good season for the all straw model a little later.

Ribbon trimmings and ribbon hats are in excellent standing. More, grosgrain and especially velvet ribbons are much in evidence. Lace is used for drapery, wing forms and insets. There is marked use of straw for ornamentation.

Adventures Of The Twins

THE ROBBING GOBLIN
Mister Peg Leg, the fairy peddler man, and Nancy and Nick, the Twins, were leaving the Land-of-Dear-Knows-Where because Mister Peg Leg had enough money to buy a new peg leg and he wouldn't need to work any more for a whole year.

The moon was dipping behind the hills and Mister Sun's bald head was beginning to show itself over the other side of the world. All around him the clouds were grey, as though underneath the edge of the world there was a great bonfire somewhere.

"Red in the morning, sailor's warning," said Mister Peg Leg. "It's going to rain. I never knew it to fail. We'd better be hurrying or we shall get caught in a shower."

But almost before he was through speaking it was pouring rain.

"Well, well, well!" cried Mister Peg Leg. "This is a pretty pickle. Now what shall we do?"

"Nick laughed. 'I know,' he said. 'Just wait here.'"

Away he ran into the woods and before long he came back carrying three mushroom umbrellas.

"Ha, ha, ha! That's just fine," said Mister Peg Leg. "But how can I carry my pack and my pocketbook and my umbrella all at once?"

"I'm going to carry your pack," said Nick. "You've carried it long enough and you must be tired." He took the fairyman's pack and slung it on his own strong shoulders.

"And I am going to carry your pocketbook," said a new voice—and turning around who should they see but Snitcher Snatch, the little goblin, standing there in all the pouring rain.

"I just waited till you sold all you could," said the goblin. "And now that you are leaving, I'll have your money, please."

"You get out," cried Nick.

"Shoo!" shouted Nancy. "You can't have Mister Peg Leg's money."

The Twins were as brave as soldiers and they began to rumble the little goblin with all their might. But the goblin pushed them away finally as he was extra strong.

"Now you give me that pocketbook," he demanded again.

Without a word the fairy man handed it over, but it was empty!

"Find the money if you can," grinned Mister Peg Leg.

"You've hid it! You've hid it in a tree," shouted Snitcher Snatch. "But I'll find it!"

Mister Peg Leg and the Twins went on, leaving the bad goblin jumping up and down furiously.

They left the Land-of-Dear-Knows-Where and by the time they came to the gate of Scrub-Up Land, the rain stopped and they threw their mushroom umbrella away.

By the time they got back to the Fairy Queen's Palace the sun was shining.

"Poor Mister Peg Leg lost all his money," said Nancy sadly.

"Oh, ho! I did, did I?" laughed the little peddler man. "Look here!"

And taking off his peg-leg he shook out every cent of the missing money.

"I hid it when you were pounding the goblin," he chuckled. "Now for a fine new leg. It's fine to have a peg leg, but it's even finer to have a new one."

You got asked in for cakes and tea quite often when ordinary legs have to stay outside. Goodbye, Twins, and thanks for your help. When this one wears off we'll go on another trip together."

And he went limping off to the peddler store, singing a merry song.

The Twins slipped off their magic shoes and there they were, right in their yard at home.

BREAKFASTS TO TAKE PLACE OF CLUB LUNCHEON

Do you belong to a club that limits you to certain amounts to be spent for food, each time you entertain the members? And do you find, due to the fact that the high cost of living has long been a friendly enemy, since the club set that allowance, that you are forced to do much interesting and ingenious entertaining and cap doing when entertaining?

If you will be interested in the club breakfast, this is quite similar to a club luncheon and fulfills the same purpose. The hour is usually twelve, instead of one o'clock, which gives a longer afternoon for club business or cards.

Gratifying creamed sweet breads, biscuits and other things, which are practically the same as luncheon and luncheon usually figure on the menu. Otherwise there is really little difference between the two meals.

Luncheons, this offers a suitable menu with a minimum of preparation and serves the aim of all hostesses. As a rule luncheons that seem to amuse a single out of thin air are the meals that have received a maximum of careful planning and of deep thought. These are the meals where every possible step has been taken beforehand and nothing has been left to chance.

More and more, luncheons are being served at small tables. This makes the buffet luncheon an interesting possibility and reduces the necessary serving, which, in itself, is a boon to most hostesses.

Table arrangement adds or detracts greatly from appearances, so though your linen is not of the latest or newest, if it is carefully laundered, it will make a pleasing background for your best china and silver. This, by the way, should be shined and dusted the day before your luncheon.

If you feel that your luncheon will not be equal to the occasion, it is possible, nowadays, to purchase most attractive dollies and tray cloths and napkins, softly woven of paper, which makes most effective additions to small table services.

Flowers, when they are to be used, should be chosen and ordered the day before. With small tables, however, flowers are really not necessary and sometimes only prove an annoyance.

For a buffet luncheon individual shrimp salads, in jelly, made an attractive dish. Frozen tomato salad is another variation of the customary salad which is popular.

Planked chicken is rather a novelty for a small luncheon, but offers the perils of carving to the inexperienced server. It has many possibilities for a small club luncheon where the hostess is limited to a few dishes, because it is possible to add various vegetables and so combine many things into one.

Sydney Carton kept out of sight of almost everyone, but I will say this for him, his being here made things easier for all concerned.

I think he must have sent a very drastic telegram to J. A. P. for his royal highness came over by airplane in time for the funeral.

Leslie refused—very rightly, I think—to see him, which must have jarred his conceit just a little.

For the benefit of the curious, or as your mother or mine would have put it, for the speech of people, Karl Whitney walked with Leslie, and John Prescott with Mrs. Hamilton, when they left the motor for the grave. No one, of course, except the few right on the ground knew that this arrangement was made, because Leslie positively refused to walk beside her husband or have anything to do with him. Glory for her—I didn't think she had it in her.

I haven't seen Mr. Prescott alone since he returned to the city. He has not yet been down to the plant. I am writing this the morning after the funeral. When he comes, if he asks me anything about the affair, believe me, I shall tell him the truth—politely, of course, but it will be the whole blooming truth with no sugar on it.

Leslie is looking like a ghost these days. She has been so full of trouble that she has, I am sure, had no time to think of the baby that is coming. You know how happy she was when she expected her first one. Poor girl, I almost feel that sometimes she wishes this baby was not coming at all.

We have a young woman added to the family—a sister of Mrs. Burke's former husband. She is going to be governess to little Jack. She is very clever, very pretty, and very sweet. I think she is also a good sport, at least she has come through the trying last few days with splendid poise.

Sydney Carton went back home directly. I do not think he and Jack even met, which I take to be a great surprise to J. A. P. I just wish his friend would once tell him, John Alden Prescott, just what he really thinks of him.

I think, perhaps, if he did, there would come another surprise to friend Jack. I am sure Sydney Carton is, as I told you before, hopelessly in love with Leslie, and he is trying to make over John Prescott into the kind of a man who might be worthy of Leslie, and who would make her happy.

Just before Mr. Carton left, I happened to see Mrs. Burke, who had just been with Leslie, give a letter to him. I am sure it was some explanation of why Leslie could not see him.

I expect by this time you are thinking that John Prescott is a regular cad. He is not. He is a man with the most winning masculine personality I have ever known, and because of it he is a very selfish, arrogant, overbearing man. He has been spoiled. He expects everyone to think of him first.

Why, even I, who know all his faults so very well—I, to whom no man before has appealed in such a way that my heart has spoken instead of my head—am perfectly fascinated by him when we are together.

Here he comes now. I must stop writing you and become a business cog in this great industrial wheel. Will write you again soon. The coming affairs of this family promise to be very interesting.

White to Leslie—she will appreciate it.

Lovingly,

SALLY.

Health Hints

ROOT OF SERIOUS TROUBLES
Constipation often is considered a minor ailment.

But regardless, it is one of the most common of ailments, and often is the root of serious trouble.

Persons who lead a sedentary life are most subject to constipation. For them there is one cardinal principle to be laid down for its treatment.

This is diet. Medicine may relieve constipation, but it does not remove the cause.

Let it be the thing. Avoid eating as much as usual. Substitute in the place of meats, prunes and figs, apples, tomatoes, pears and flax.

Oatmeal, Indian and rye meal porridge are beneficial, the more so if they are eaten with molasses instead of milk.

Coarse bread, as graham, oatmeal or brown bread, is to be preferred to that made from fine wheat flour. Drink coffee without sugar. Plenty of water should be taken during the day.

Sometimes a glass of cold water before breakfast is a sufficient aperient.

GROCCERS START CAMPAIGN FOR PHONE ORDERS

Corbett Offers Proof That Future of Stores Lies in Increased Volume

Twenty-five grocers of Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Kaukauna and intervening points have joined in a formal association to launch a "phone for food" campaign as the result of a meeting attended by more than 30 at the chamber of commerce rooms Tuesday evening. H. J. Ingold, president of the S. C. Shannon company, who called the grocers together, was elected chairman of the organization, and M. J. Gehl, N. Lawest grocer, was named secretary.

This step was taken by the grocers, when they were shown surveys of the National Wholesale Grocers association in which it is proved that the only solution of the store situation is an increase in the volume of sales by means of the telephone. The number of stores is growing and the number of available patrons therefore less and a greater volume of sales is needed, it was shown, to prevent losses. Mr. Ingold as chairman of the meeting explained the campaign which is being put on all over the country by the national wholesale association to protect the interests of the retailer. Hugh G. Corbett, secretary of the chamber of commerce, explained the retail situation and the tendencies which it is necessary to correct, using large charts furnished by the wholesale body. Harry Fellows, manager of Wisconsin Telephone company, explained what service the telephone can provide in a campaign of this kind. The intention is to use liberal publicity with newspaper ads, window and wagon cards, envelope stuffers and stickers on packages to do for retailing what the "say it with flowers" slogan did for the floral business.

STOP LOSSES

Distribution is the problem on which the country is putting its most expert thought. Mr. Corbett explained, now that production and its costs have been gotten down to a fine point. He said every retailer wonders what the future holds for him with the increase in competition and the growth of the mail order house and the chain store. Insurance companies have figures from the past by which they can forecast the future accurately but retailers lack that. He quoted a survey made in Madison by the University of Wisconsin showing the lack of proportion in distribution of trade among stores, the fact that one-third operated at a loss and that the margin on the grocer's dollar was so close that he made little profit unless there was a big volume of sales. Figures offered by Mr. Corbett showed that the country had 25,000 stores in 1850 or one to every 950 people and in 1922 there were 400,000 groceries, one to each 255 people. Using these same dates he showed a comparison of 192 families to the store in 1850 with weekly sales volume of $1,920 and 1922 with 51 families and sales of $510. Two employees today are sufficient whereas in 1850 five were needed because of the volume. If this trend continues, said Mr. Corbett, there will be 75 families to a store in 1940, with sales of $150 a week and only half a person will be needed to keep the establishment going.

Average cash and carry sales amount to 61 cents today, counter delivery sales $1.62 and telephone sales $1.90. The counter sale takes four minutes, the telephone one and a half. Volume of business goes down in the proportion that rents go up. Telephone business can be worked up easily, he said, because there are standard brands. The housewife's time also is saved because she otherwise

Sunshine and Cod Liver Oil For Puny Sickly Children

Read this from a well known medical journal "If you have a boy or girl that needs building up—more weight—more strength—sturdy healthy—perfect teeth.

"Sunshine and cod liver oil both will cure rickets. Cod liver oil will also cure sore eyes while sunshine will not."

Keep the frail, underdeveloped children out in the open during the sunny days of spring and summer.

You might feed them on nasty tasting, vile smelling, cod liver oil also, for it is chock full of health creating, body building vitamins, but the days of such cruelty are past.

Nowadays, intelligent parents who want their backward, thin children to take on weight, grow healthy and bright and romp and play as normal children should, are turning to Mr. Coy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—sugar coated and as easy to take as candy.

They surely do help puny, underweight children and for that purpose, alone hundreds of thousands of boxes have been sold. Often a child will gain five pounds in 60 days and show mental as well as physical improvement.

But be sure and get McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, the original and genuine—40 tablets—60 cents—at Schmitz Bros., Dornier's Drug Store and all drug stores everywhere in North and South America—and if after a 30 days treatment they do not help your ailing child—get your money back.

takes three hours to shop, time worth $1.50, and saves perhaps 10 or 15 cents.

BIG "CROWD" POSSIBLE

The telephone can bring a volume of 1,000 patrons to the store, whereas in personal trading the place never could handle such a crowd, said the speaker. The average volume of sales in stores over the counter is $69 a day, all a store can handle, while that of telephone orders is $309 a day. It means a gain of $231 a day therefore to the merchant who supports a campaign to do business by telephone, it was pointed out. Stores with large counter patronage have peak hours when they are crowded and enough clerks must be hired to move the business rapidly in these periods. This help is more or less idle the remainder of the time. Business solicited by telephone was shown by charts to be much more uniform and easily distributed over most of the day.

Details of the "phone for food" campaign as launched all over the country then were explained. The aims, said Mr. Corbett, are to distribute the sales load and increase the volume. The added volume reduces sales and delivery costs and the overhead expense per sale. Telephone patronage increases the size of the order, the turnover and the profits. There is

Indian Leader Demands Wisconsin Seek Justice for Red Tribes

Madison—Wisconsin, the ninth state in Indian population should be among the first states to demand of congress a prompt reorganization of the Indian bureau to the end that a business like and legally controlled trust administration of Indian reservations result and that the bureau be attached to the department of agriculture instead of to the interior department, John Collier, executive secretary of the American Indian Defense association, Inc., New York, declared in an address tonight before a meeting of members of the Wisconsin legislature.

"Petty and monstrous tyrannies over the Indian person, even over his family life and religious worship must end," Mr. Collier said, in attacking the policies of the Indian bureau. He suggested that government appropriations for Indian welfare be spent in cooperation with state departments and preferably through such departments.

Wisconsin has an Indian population of more than 11,000 persons, Mr. Collier asserted. Of these, there are 3,000 pure bloods and 8,659 of more than half Indian blood, he said.

greater possibility for grocers, it was said, in the "phone for food" campaign than there was for florists who troubled their business with the "say it with flowers" campaign.

Immediate steps will be taken to enact the telephone campaign, the merchants decided. Future meetings will be held to compare results and arrange further promotion, and also to talk over other problems.

The Home Follows the Automobile, Which Follows Oil

The petroleum industry is a vital factor in upbuilding the home.

Statistics prove that the states which lead in the number of motor cars per 1000 population have the highest percentage of homes owned. Since 1915, home building has followed in direct ratio, the increase in motor car production.

The home follows the automobile, and the automobile followed the wide distribution of gasoline and oils at prices which all can afford to pay.

The low price of gasoline and oil which makes the universal use of the automobile possible is due solely to the intensive scientific work of the petroleum industry.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) by the application of modern refinery processes has taken a leading part in creating enormous additional percentages of gasoline from crude. In addition, it has put into operation the first modern, and the most complete system for distribution of oil products.

A few years ago the horse and buggy was the mark of affluence. Only the well-to-do felt able to enjoy such luxury. Today, hundreds of thousands of people go to and from their work in a motor car. Motor vehicles carry 289,000 children to school, every day of the school year.

Home owning is nation building. Crowded industrial cities once threatened to reduce all American families to the ranks of apartment dwellers. The production of an abundance of high-grade, refined petroleum was the scientific achievement which, by making automotive transportation at low cost possible, gave every worker the opportunity to put 20 miles or more between home and job, and enabled him to bring up his children where the air is fresh and the grass is green.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service puts oil at the disposal of every motorist in the Middle West. In perfecting this service, this Company has contributed to the upbuilding of thousands upon thousands of happy American homes.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of its part in such constructive work. It is by such achievements that this company attains enduring success.

THIS IS NATIONAL MUSIC WEEK

"Give More Thought to Music"

MUSIC — the Voice of the Emotions

Language is not subtle enough, tender enough, to express all we feel, and when language fails, the highest and deepest longings are translated into music.

—Ingersoll.

A boy laughs or a girl cries! Why? Because there are no words adequately to express their feelings and their feelings must have vent.

Music expresses emotions which can be expressed in no other way. Neither tears nor laughter nor words can tell the story of our moods, our aspirations.

Joy, sorrow, yearning and light-hearted gaiety are all reflected in music. Furthermore, it harmonizes with them all, softening sorrow and adding zest to joy and gaiety.

Neglect to make proper provision for music in your home is more than an oversight. It is a deprivation to the entire family of a wholesome pleasure and a stunting of part of their nature.

Valley Squad Hopes to Leave Cellar at Expense of Leading Keno Squad

When the Menasha-Neenah Pails of the new Wisconsin State League meet the Kenosha club in the first Sunday battle on the Menasha field, Fox river valley fans will have the first opportunity of seeing one of the crack teams of the old Midwest League in action. The Kenosha team, showing a sluggish offense and sparkling fielding beat the strong Beloit Fairies in a league game on Sunday by a 7 to 2 score. Maple, Keno pitcher, hurled a classy game and only one error was charged up against the winners. Rumber, slugging center gardner, O'Mara and Canon, lead-off man, poked out two hits apiece including a homer by Rumber. Included in the Keno lineup are Oile O'Mara, Wickland, Beall and Hammond, formerly of the American Association, and catcher Wagner, second baseman, Cruthers, former major leaguer.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

It's all off again! Here we had everything set for the city championship game on Sunday when notice was received from the Beyer Sentinels that they were opening their season against Little Chute Sunday so they could not accept the challenge of the Fox River Immediate Manager Beyer of the Papermakers scheduled game with the New London Boosters. So there you are—the game is off. Will they ever meet? It begins to look like a case of each being afraid of the others ability and not caring to risk a battle except a battle of words. We suggest each man send the other a list of his open dates for comparison. Surely, neither team has conflicts all through the season!

Hark to the Stevens Point Sport-cove, you high school athletes, then tear up the cinders, May 16.

A comparison of the standing records in the track and field meet which has been held for Wisconsin High schools by Stevens Point Normal school, with those which stand in the Lawrence college Fox River Valley prep games, are all to the favor of the local meet. It is an indication that the Wisconsin Valley High schools are athletically superior to the Fox Valley. Although the meet held here is open to all in the state, most of the records are held by Wisconsin Valley High school athletes.

Take the 100-yard dash, for instance. The best record at the Lawrence meet was made by Don Hyde of Appleton, 11 seconds for the century. Max Merrill of Merrill ran the 100 in 10.25 at the meet here in 1912. Johnson of Appleton has the best mark for the 440 yard run, which is 57.6 second. Shafer of Merrill, in 1921, did the 440 in 53 seconds.

The Fox Valley half mile mark is 24:4.2. And the mile, 51:18.8. The Normal prep mark for the half mile here is 25.6, while by Hansen of Madison Central, while the mile was done in 14:47.6 by Lemke of Merrill in 1921. Nearly a minute better than the Lawrence mark. The broad jump record which stands here is 20 feet 15 inches, made by Stafford of Chilpewa Falls. This mark has stood since 1915. The Lawrence mark for this event is 18 feet six inches. This will be but Lawrence's second year of holding a prep interscholastic, and in all fairness to the Appleton school it must be pointed out that the records here are an accumulation of more than a dozen years. The nine out of the fourteen records existing here were made in 1921 or later.

It's nice of Pitt to act that fast, comment though he finally works it for his own benefit. All we have to say is that it is logical that schools which have competed in track or nine years are in better position to make high marks than newly-organized squads, even though most of the Wisconsin valley records were set from 1921 on. The moral to this fable is a track team cannot be developed in one year. A school which has had track for four years should beat one with two years work though every man on the former team was a regular for the first time. Just a little reminder. Pitt, in days when track was under a A. H. S. SIX Orange athletes took second place over previous squads of from ten to twenty Wisconsin valley men at the Point for two years. We recall 1920 in particular.

CHARGE FORD CO. WITH CRIMINAL CONSPIRACY

By Associated Press

Jackson, Miss.—W. J. Miller, state revenue agent, Thursday filed in the chancery court of Pineco here a suit against the Ford Motor Co., charging a criminal conspiracy to violate the anti-trust laws of Mississippi and seeking to collect penalties totaling $12,000,000.

All local Ford dealers in Mississippi and the banking institutions with which they transact business are made co-defendants, and the state revenue agent seeks to attach the funds of the Ford Motor Co. on deposit in the several banks to guarantee payment of penalties in event the suit is sustained in the courts.

The bill of complaint is based on the contracts between the Ford Motor Co., and its local dealers and alleges that the contracts violate the anti-trust laws of Mississippi, that they are in restraint of trade, inimical to the public welfare, and constitute an unlawful and criminal conspiracy.

OSHKOSH FAVORED WITH GREAT BUILDING BOOM

Oshtosh—As proved by the building permit department of the city, Oshkosh is having a building boom that bids fair to put the 1925 season far ahead of any recent years in the extent and value of construction operations.

Thus far permits have been issued for 41 new residence, compared with 18 for the same period last year. Foundations are being constructed for about a dozen more homes, in addition to the 41 in process of building. Last year Oshkosh passed the $1,500,000 mark in building and it looks as if that figure would be far exceeded this year.

BUILDING PERMITS

Three permits to build garages were issued by the city building inspector Wednesday and Thursday, in addition to one for the erection of a residence, one for a sun parlor and another for an open shed. Cost estimates indicated in the permits amounted to $7,355. The following permits were issued:

Applon Woolen Mills, S. Island-st, open shed.

Lawrence Koepke, 806 N. Clark-st, residence.

Wenzel Fischer, 534 W. Foster-st, garage.

Paul Jahr, 337 W. Wisconsin-ave, remodel residence, garage.

James Nelson, 615 N. Morrison-st, garage.

Katherine Bartman, 313 W. Atlantic-st, sunroom.

Daddy!
—did you bring me anything?

Don't disappoint the little folks tonight. Tuck a few rolls of Life Savers into your pocket when you're picking up your newspapers.

They are without question the purest and most wholesome candy you can take home for children.

Best for little tummies so easily upset by richer sweets. Best for tiny teeth that decay all too soon anyhow.

You can consistently be generous in giving Life Savers to children. It's much better to let children have the right kind of candy regularly than to give it to them only occasionally. They are less likely to over-eat and have ill effects.

Local beekeepers will meet in the city hall here Friday afternoon with guests from all over the county.

MULLEN RETAIL BOARD'S SCRIBE

Merchants Division of Chamber of Commerce Lays Its Plans for Year

C. E. Mullen, manager of Geenen Dry Goods Co., was elected secretary of the retail trades division of the chamber of commerce, at a meeting of merchants Wednesday morning in the chamber offices. Walter Joyce, a director of the chamber, is the chairman.

An executive committee of the retailers will be appointed with one representative from each line of business. The chairman and secretary were empowered to make the appointments.

No action was taken on closing of stores Memorial day, which falls on Saturday, as the meeting did not represent every line of trade. The proposal had been advanced to keep stores open the Friday evening previous.

Organization of a credit association among Appleton businessmen, one of the planks in the chamber of commerce platform, was discussed but no final action taken. There was sentiment, however, for creating a credit body with each member of the retail division of the chamber of commerce as a member of that group also.

Ellington Cow Testing association's annual booklet will be given support by the merchants, they decided. Financial help will be given to defray cost of printing and each merchant contributing will have his name listed instead of using advertising space.

Tropical Bird, Chilled By Cold, Caught In City

A strange visitor from the south surprised residents of Appleton some days ago, whose identity remained a mystery until Miss Deelma Salsbury of Appleton high school identified him as a Florida gallinule a bird about the size of a pigeon but with legs built for wading and the oily plumage of a water fowl. The bird was found in the ditch on Wisconsin avenue by a girl who took it to the residence of Jean Sorenson nearby.

It was either stunned or was chilled by the unexpected cold, for the girl had no trouble picking it up. After it had been taken into a warm house, however, it began to revive rapidly.

The wings and upper parts of the bird's body are deep olive-brown, while the breast and underparts of the body are grey. The ridges of its wings and lower tail feathers are white, its frontal plate a vivid red, and the tip of its long beak a bright yellow. Its legs, long and large for its size, are a bright green, with a splash of carmine near the top. The feet are webbed very slightly, which, together with the texture of its feathers and length of its legs and bill indicate the bird inhabits swamps and marshes.
